PREFACE

This volume is the second of an eight volume set of documented descendants of Lieutenant Nicholas Stillwell. I continue to struggle with identifying the point at which a given family line switched to the use of three "L" version of the surname and in some cases when the descendants of a given line switched back to the four "L" version. The difficulty continues to be with documenting consistent usage. "Gray areas" persist in which clarity is not readily apparent. Errors have most likely been made in this regard. I hope that these errors will be minimal in number.

I again express my deepest appreciation to those who generously shared their research with me and also to my wife, Barbara, and son, Andrew, for their encouragement and support over the past years.

Author's note: The 1850 New York Federal Census entry for Peter E. S. Proper shows him being married to a Polly, born in New York. Polly was approximately the same age as Mary Stillwell. I am not certain whether Polly and Mary are one in the same individual. Given the social customs of that period, it seems out of line for Peter Proper to marry so quickly after the death of Mary as reported by Doctor John E. Stillwell. However, it is not improbable considering the age of the youngest children at the time of her death as reported by Doctor John Edwin Stillwell.

Misc:

“The company began in Montgomery in 1847, with incorporation by the legislature on March 4, 1848, as the Montgomery Manufacturing Company. Former Montgomery mayor John Gindrant formed the partnership with his son-in-law, Joseph Samuel Prince Winter, and Philip H. Raiford. They opened their foundry on lots one through five in square four on Tennessee and Tallapoosa Streets. Gindrant died in Macon County, Alabama, in 1851, and Winter, as the new president, renamed the company the Winter Iron Works on December 18, 1851. For reasons unknown John Gano Winter, Joseph's father, actually controlled the company and took the credit for creating it. Visitors to the foundry even referred to it as John G. Winter & Son.

Born in New York City on April 7, 1799, the senior Winter became one of the more controversial individuals who tried to bring industry to the plantation South. He began his professional career as a schoolteacher at age fifteen before becoming a successful lawyer. After living in Kentucky briefly, he moved to Georgia to open a store in Augusta before starting another in Warrenton. During the Panic of 1837 Winter left retirement to become a cotton broker and then a banker. By the early 1840s he had moved to Columbus, Georgia, where he opened a mill, a bank, and a paper factory. In 1844 he served as mayor and also held $30,000 of the city's $70,000 debt. Credit agents reported that Winter had powerful financial connections that extended to New York City. His holdings in Montgomery included not only the Winter Iron Works but also an extensive adjoining mill. At the same time, John G. Winter explored the development of regional toll plank roads as financial ventures.

The Winter family empire had serious problems by the mid-1850s. The R. G. Dun credit reporter for Montgomery wrote that John G. and his sons seemed unable to deal with anyone without a resulting lawsuit. He also wrote that no one would believe any of them, even under oath. Beginning in late 1853, several companies brought suit in federal court against Joseph S. Winter, Joseph S. Winter & Company, John Gano Winter, and the Montgomery Iron Works for debts owed by the foundry. The Winters made no protest, and the court ordered the company's profits garnished, upon which the creditors then sued the garnishee for even more money. A fire on May 1, 1855, destroyed the large Winter mill and did $25,000 to $30,000 in damages to the adjoining ironworks. On November 30 the Merchants Bank of Georgia sued the ironworks for $118,029.81.

The federal court ordered the sale of the bankrupt foundry. The company's last business records, now in the Alabama state archives, survive from that sale, which brought in $175,000." (Robert S. Davis, Jr., The Story And Records Of The Winter Iron Works, Alabama Review (July 2000)).

Author's note:

Based on the limited information that is available, one can draw the conclusion that Richmond Peeler was an astute businessman. In 1850, he was operating a “wood yard” in Warren County, Mississippi. The value of his real estate holdings was listed as being $500 in the 1850 Mississippi Federal Census record. By the time of the enumeration of the 1860 Mississippi Federal Census, Richmond’s real estate holdings had increased in value to $8,000 and the value of his personal property was recorded as being $25,000. The later amount appears to reflect the value placed on his slave holdings. According to the 1850 Slave Schedule for Mississippi, Richmond owned twenty slaves and was the “agent” for twenty-one additional slaves of varying ages and sex.

By 1870 the value of Richmond’s real estate holding had increased to $15,000 while the value of his personal property declined to $4,000. This is not surprising considered that a sizeable portion of the value of his personal property in 1860 can be attributed to his slave holdings. What is surprising is the fact that his net worth was so high five years after the cessation of hostilities especially considering that he lived on the outskirts of Vicksburg. The entire area surrounding Vicksburg was ravaged by the construction of siege works and bivouacs of the Union Army during the siege of that city.

R. W. Dhonau wrote in his book, Stillwell Heritage In Arkansas, 1798 – 1976, that Richmond was a cotton planter in Texas without providing any dates or sources for this statement. I have been unable to identify any documentation which would verify this statement. Richmond was enumerated in each of the federal census records from 1850 through 1880. This doesn't preclude the possibility of Richmond temporarily locating to the relative safety of Texas during the Civil War.

In the decision written by the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals pertaining to the case of Peeler v. Lathrop (December 7, 1891), you will find details of one aspect of Richmond Peeler's business enterprises. The case involved property dealings in the vicinity of Vicksburg which began in the early 1870s. The decision by the court is lengthy and is not reproduced herein. From a genealogical perspective, the decision provided the name of Richmond's second wife and also the month and year of his death.

After his death, Richmond's grandchildren by his son, James, filed suit against Richmond's second wife regarding his estate. The grandchildren had lost the case and appealed the decision to the Supreme Court of Mississippi. The court ruled against the grandchildren. A portion of the court's ruling follows:

“WOODS, O. J. Richmond Peeler died seised and possessed of a homestead and valuable plantation in Warren county. He had been twice married. By his first marriage, he had one son, who died during the life-time of the father. This son left, surviving him, four children, the appellants herein. By the second marriage, he had no children, and the second wife is the appellee. Richmond Peeler and the second wife were living on the homestead on the plantation, at the date of his death. His surviving widow, the appellee, was the owner, at the time of her husband's death, of a residence worth $2,000, or more. The widow filed her petition in Warren chancery court, praying the allotment to her of the exempt real estate of her late husband, and praying partition of the remaining realty, equally between herself and the four grandchildren above referred to. The grandchildren answer, and make their answer a cross-petition, by which they admit that they and the widow are tenants in common of all the realty, except the homestead. As to the homestead, they assert they are entitled to the whole of the exempt homestead, and deny that the widow is entitled to any part thereof. They aver that James Peeler, their father, at the date of his death, together with his wife and his four children, the appellants, was living with his father, Richmond Peeler, and his (James Peeler's) mother, who was then living, and that they were living as one family, although they occupied a separate house; that, after the death of James Peeler, his wife and children, the appellants, lived with Richmond Peeler and his first wife, James' mother, as members of their family, though continuing to occupy the house used by James and his family, in his life-time, and which said house was only a short distance from the house occupied by Richmond Peeler and wife; that, after the death of the first wife of Richmond Peeler, appellants and their mother continued to live and remain as a part of Richmond Peeler's family, and so continued to live after his second marriage, and up to the day of his death; that Richmond Peeler treated appellants as members of his family, making no distinction between them and appellee; that it was understood between Richmond Peeler and the mother of appellants, after James Peeler's death, that appellants were to be supported and educated by Richmond Peeler at his own expense, and were to be treated by him as part of his own family, and that this understanding was fully complied with by Richmond Peeler until his death; that Richmond Peeler had no other family than appellants and appellee for some years before his death.” (PEELER et al. v. PEELER Supreme Court of Mississippi. November. 10, 1890.)

Author's note: All of Richmond's offspring were deceased by 1890.

Children of Richmond Peeler (II) and Sarah A. Cocke were as follows:

Author's note: The 1850 Missouri Federal Census<sup>225</sup> clearly indicates that Ann could not have been married to Thomas in 1842 as stated by R. W. Dhonau. Thomas' wife was recorded as being Ellen, age 24 years, born in Missouri. Elizabeth (Eliza), William (Russell) and Thomas (Tom) are recorded as being the children of this couple rather than of Thomas and Ann as attributed by R. W. Dhonau. I have kept the assignment of the children with Thomas and Ann pending additional clarification and confirming sources.

This census indicates that Thomas Allen was a "Gentleman" and owned property valued at $600,000.

part briefly in battles in Virginia and Maryland; in September 1861 he was ordered to report to General J.C. Fremont in Missouri.

As the fighting around the southern part of the Mississippi River intensified, at Shiloh, Vicksburg, and Memphis, Alexander Hoff was detailed to General U.S. Grant's command as superintendent of medical transport on the Mississippi. Here he was in charge of the first Civil War hospital ship owned (not chartered) by the United States government, the D.A. January. He retained this post until 1864. So successful was Hoff in this position that he was next transferred to New York Harbor to oversee the transport of the sick and wounded soldiers along the East Coast.

Hoff was mustered out of the Volunteers on 31 August 1866 and appointed to the regular Army Medical Department on 1 June 1867. In 1876 he was involved with the centennial exhibits in Philadelphia with Woodward and Otis, and he died in that city before the exhibition opened.

Author's note: The following was provided by Jean Young Houston:

"The Elizabeth Stillwell - David Ross story is the only "skeleton in the closet" that I find in any of my lines. All of my Dad's cousins knew that David Ross had an illegitimate son, but in those days no one talked about it. David & wife reared the boy and David's will left his farm to his wife if she kept the son & provided burial - son was an invalid I think. Everyone assumed that the Catherine Jones who was buried with son Roderick Ross and David & wife was the child's mother".

David Ross' will reads as follows:

"I David Ross of Ohio Township Clermont Co. County Ohio, do make and publish this my last will and testament.

Author's note: Jean Young Houston wrote the following:

“Amos Stillwell's 2 youngest sons were living with John Bennet, son-in-law at the time Amos made his will. Wife Elizabeth (Iliff) had died in 1851. On 1 May 1865 orphans Amos " over 14 years of age" made choice of John Bennett for their guardians. Evidently John & wife Margaret completely reared these 2 boys. Amos wanted his farm rented until, Alfred, the youngest was 21 - then land was to be divided. This will is undated but is in the May 1865 court term.”

Author's note: It is apparent that Amos' sons reverted to the “Stillwell” form of the surname based on available documents.

“Obituaries - NJ - 1901 - George W. Stillwell. George W. Stillwell of Shrewsbury died of old age last Thursday evening. He was 91 years old, but he had retained his mental and physical powers to a surprising degree. He was sick only a week, and up to the time of his last sickness he was apparently in good health. Mr. Stillwell was a descendant of one of the early English families, and he was named after the Father of his Country. He was a large real estate owner and at one time he owned the property which afterward came into the possession of Anthony Reckless. Mr. Stillwell sold the entire Reckless tract in Red Bank, with considerable other property not included in the Reckless purchase, for $2,000. Mr. Stillwell made a great deal of money as a butcher and a dealer in cattle. During the time he was in that business he had the reputation of being the best qualified man in the East to judge of the market value of cattle. Mr. Stillwell leaves five children. They are Charles, Anna Theodosia and Mrs. Mary Ellen Stryker, all of whom live at home; Joseph, who was formerly in business in Red Bank with his father but who for several years has lived in the south; and David, who lives in the West. Mr. Stillwell left a large farm in Shrewsbury and he also left other real estate there. He farmed the place himself for many years and conducted the farm in such a way as to make it very profitable. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon and the Author's note: There are two military records for Newell Stilwell. The first shows an enlistment into Company I of the 45th Virginia Infantry Regiment with a subsequent medical disability discharge on January 28, 1862. The second shows an enlistment with Company H of the 23rd Virginia Infantry Regiment on June 24, 1862 with his subsequent death as a prisoner of war at Lookout Point, Maryland. It is my personal opinion that both records are for the same individual.

“As the local family historian, when we dropped the L, is the number one question I am asked. I know Abel's father, Abel spelled it with 4L's, but his brothers were mixed. Lemuel 4Ls, although he buried his wife Clementine in 1882 her tombstone, a very large stone one, bears the name, STILWELL, Charles 4Ls, Peter 4Ls, taken from their tombstones. Jesse has 3Ls on his death cert. 1916, and his application for military pension 1905, signed by him with 3Ls, his marriage license 1872 and on his pay records in the war 1864-1865, but 4Ls on his tombstone in 1916. Now with my great-grandfather, Abel, the only actual signature of his, is on his enlistment paper 2/23/1864 and his pay records of 1864, he signs STILWELL. I also have an actual signature of his wife, my great-grandmother, Laura Josie Hall Stilwell, and it is signed STILWELL, dated 1888. Other than that, on all the other documents made by others than himself, it is about a split. It's interesting also that his son Ernest and his family continues to this day in using 4 Ls, although his other sons, Perry, Otto (my grandfather), Vane and Walter, always used 3 Ls. I can't prove it, but after taking in personal family history past on to Maine, I believe Abel born 1845, dropped the L when he entered the army in 1864. I have sent a copy of Abel's enlistment paper with his signature in the middle of the page. Paul<sup>2146</sup>”

Author's note: The following were extracted from The Stilwell Letters: A Georgian in Longstreet's Corps, Army of Northern Virginia (Mercer University Press, Macon, Georgia, 2002) edited by Ronald H. Moseley. Many of these same letters were found posted on the CivilWar.com website. The book is exceptional in that the letters provide a personal insight into the day to day life of a common enlisted soldier in the Confederate Army.

William Ross Stilwell enlisted in F Company 53rd Georgia Infantry Regiment. He subsequently was assigned as a courier with General Paul Jones Semmes Brigade. William remained in the position throughout the remainder of his service.

“July 13th

Gen. Semmes died of his wounds. Just before he died he called for his sword and his Testament. he placed his sword by his side and locked his hands around his Testament and crossed his breast. Thus he died. Gen. Semmes, in the agony of death said to a Mr. Aleander, a noted war correspondent, "I consider it a privilege to die for my country." I am now acting courier for Col. Bryan who is now in command of our brigade. One of the couriers was wounded and I was appointed to take his place.”

“August. 13, 1863 This is indeed a dark day for the Confederacy. Hundreds of our men are deserting and those who remain are discouraged and disheartened. To give up is but subjugation. To fight on is desolation.”

“Sept. 7, 1863

All eyes are turned to Bragg's Army in Tennessee. From what I can hear a great battle will be fought near Chattanooga. Should his Army be defeated woe be to Georgia. We still continue to hold prayer meetings in our regiment every nite. I held this meeting in Co. G. Read the 3rd chapter of John and made some remarks from the 14th verse. I do not record this as an item of news but for the evidence that I am trying to live for eternity and for a home beyond this sin-smitten world.”

“October 2, 1863. Headquarters Bryans Brigade. Longstreet Corp. McLaws Division. Chattanooga, Tennessee.

I think we will shell the city in a day or two. I long to see the Confederate flag wave over Chattanooga. The Yanks still hold the city but it is reported that we have their supplies cut off. We whipped them very badly last Saturday. I have had some narrow escapes from shells.”

“November. 17th, 1864. General Hospital No.1.Savannah, Georgia.

Once more by the goodness and mercy of a kind providence I am in the land that gave me birth. I lost my foot in the battle of Cedar Creek on October. 19th at Strawsburg Valley of Virginia and was captured the same day. Arrived here in Savannah after being on water twenty days. Have suffered greatly as my wound is not doing well. I feel sure I owe my life to a Virginia lady, a Mrs. William A. Davis. She came to the place I was kept a prisoner and asked the authorities to allow her to take two or more prisoners that were in the most desperate condition to her home and care for them. As she passed through she stopped by my side and inquired as to how I was getting on. I told her I would surely die unless something could be done for me. She had me placed in her carriage and I was carried to her home. She prepared food that I could eat and nursed me as she would her own son until I was able to travel. She also wrote my wife that I was wounded at battle of Cedar Creek and that I lost my foot and was taken prisoner. She lived at Newton, Virginia. God Bless her!"

Notes for John Smith Alexander (Private/CSA)

“John Smith Alexander and his twin, Silas Washington Alexander were born December 22, 1826 in Mecklenburg County, to Telemachus and Hannah Smith Alexander . Smith's father died when he and his twin were fifteen years old, and they lost their mother only four years later. They continued to live on the family farm near Sharon Presbyterian Church with their brothers and sisters through the time the 1860 census was taken. All of them became members of the church and attended together on a regular basis. During the Civil War, Smith served in Company F of the 63rd Regiment of North Carolina Troops, 5th Regiment North Carolina Cavalry, along with his brothers James Wallace and William. Washington and their other two brothers served together in the infantry. After the war, in 1868, a member of Sharon Church named William McCall married a young woman from the Sardis community, Frances Stilwell. Frances's identical twin sister, Maggie, lived with her and became a member of the church on April 13, 1867. Margaret Matilda Stillwell (photograph above, far right, 1926), and Smith married on December 11, 1873. Maggie and her twin were the daughters of Silas Nelson Stillwell and Mary Williamson. In 1881 Maggie and Smith bought a farm from her father, located near Matthews, in the Morning Star Township, where they raised cotton. All their children were born in Mecklenburg County. Around 1896 they moved their family to Moore County, to a farm on River Road, by the Deep River. There they

Author's note: Patsey's date of death is an assumption on my part. The assumption is based on the entry in the Illinois Statewide Marriage Index for Henry's marriage to his second wife, Nancy Benson, on March 16, 1862 in McLean County, Illinois..

Henry had at least three children with Nancy and they were all born in McLean County, Illinois. The children were Effie (1867), Harry B. (May 1870), and Horace (1875).

Author's note: Amelia's date of death is an assumption on my part. The 1900 Illinois Federal Census record for her mother indicated that only two of the three children born to her were alive at the time of the enumeration of that census. However, Amelia was alive and living with her husband in the household of her brother, Lee, in Jacksonville, Morgan County, Illinois when that census was taken. Amelia may have died during the time period between the enumeration of the two localities, i.e., for her mother's and brother's residence. I have found no other record of her other than the 1900 Illinois Federal Census.

Notes for Daniel Stillwell Thomas

From the Journal of Elder Wilford Woodruff: February 26, 1836.--At a conference held at Brother B.[Benjamin] L. Clapp's, in Callaway County, Kentucky, I ordained A. [Abraham] O. Smoot and Benjamin Boydston, elders, and B. L. Clapp and Daniel Thomas, priests.

“President James E. Faust, in the October 1998 General Conference, shared this story about Daniel Stillwell Thomas:

‘In the bitter cold of February 1839, Daniel Stillwell Thomas reflected, “Before we crossed [the Mississippi River] we unloaded our wagon and sent it back to assist in removing the poor and thus to save their lives - the mob still threatening them.” Daniel Thomas had five children and only one pair of shoes between them, yet he still sent the wagon back to save the destitute Saints.’”<sup>2885</sup>

- 4462 iv Isaac Jones<sup>8</sup> Thomas [24824], born<sup>2887</sup> 30 May 1834 in W. Weedsboro, Calloway, Kentucky.

“... in the spring, 1847, at Winter Quarters, Isaac was only 13 years of age when he was asked by Brother Van Cott to drive his team for him. Matilda, Isaac's sister was in very poor health and it was thought that she couldn't survive any longer at Winter Quarters, so these two went with Brother Van Cott in the first company to leave Winter Quarters, and their father, with President Young's permission, drove the team that carried the big wagon with all the records in it. The remainder of the family stayed at Winter Quarters one more winter and then traveled with their father who had returned to take them to the valley. Isaac went on to California - his whereabouts remained unknown after that.”<sup>2888</sup>

“This oblong Stoddard piano was given to my maternal grandmother, Mrs. Farr Harris Trammell Jr., nee Virginia Lee Stillwell, when she graduated from school or college. I think she was eighteen years old at that time. She married Farr Harris Trammel, Jr. December 9, 1855 at the residence of John Stillwell. She was born April 12, 1839 and died January 8, 1902. burned sometime after 1941. There was a balcony in the rear of the church for the people who assisted with the farm and house work. The lovely style of the architecture was outstanding and charming!

My grandparents' home also was destroyed by fire. This piano stood in their parlor to the left of their front door. When my parents moved from Alabama to North Carolina grandmother gave her piano to my sister Lanie Virginia Wooten. After my sister married Patrick J. Counihan they moved to Boston, Mass., leaving her piano with our mother, Ella Eugenia Trammell Wooten Yandle. Our father, Richard Allen Wooten died after we moved to North Carolina. After our mother's death, my sister left her piano with me. Now, I want it returned to Chambers County, Alabama. Our grandparents lived on a farm near Fredonia, Alabama and Ward's Mill. Five Points also was nearby.

My sister Lanie died June 9, 1975.

After the Battle of Atlanta some of General Sherman's soldiers went over to Chambers County, Alabama. As they approached our grandparents home the sound of horses or mules hooves were heard which caused concern. Grandmother, of course, did not know how the soldiers would behave. When they saw her piano - this very Stoddard piano - they requested that she play for them, which she did. After her performance they departed without doing any harm to anyone or the house. I like to think that her music was soothing to them - and I wish I knew what her selection was.

Being interested in seeing Atlanta after General Sherman and his men burned much of it, our grandparents, Virginia Lee and Farr Harris Trammell, Jr., visited the ruins. They stayed at a hotel or a boarding house. Chicken was on the breakfast menu but it was a rooster. Seemingly, the tender and young chickens had been consumed by the soldiers.

Our grandfather, Farr Harris Trammell, Jr., taught singing lessons. One day as he was going to or returning from one of the sessions, the horse or mule which he was driving ran away with him causing him to fall from the vehicle. As he had wrapped the driving lines around his wrists, he was dragged for some distance and was badly wounded which ultimately caused his death.

Our grandmother, Mrs. Farr Harris Trammell, Jr. (nee Virginia Lee Stillwell) was ill for some time, as I recall, before we moved to North Carolina. Consequently, I do not remember her playing this or her piano.

One of my favorite (I think it was instrumental) selections was "The Storm" which our mother played so well. The thunder was so realistic! She was blessed with a lovely touch. Of course, she loved hymns; one of which was The Uncloudy Day. She enjoyed singing and playing for self-entertainment or for others.

Being older than I, my sister Lanie Virginia was over at our grandmother's home more than I and could do little things for her. One day, grandmother sent my sister to a neighbor's home to get the "Atlanta Constitution". Being concerned about forgetting the long name, she repeated the word "Constitution", "Constitution", "Constitution", "Constitution" as she walked along the road or path. She was a little girl at that time.

Our grandmother, Mrs. Farr Harris Trammell, Jr. nee Virginia Lee Stillwell and her two sisters married brothers. Her sister Margaret Stillwell married Appling Daniel Trammell, M.D. and her sister Nancy Stillwell married Benjimen Thomas Stillwell (?Trammell?). Three sisters married three brothers.

This Stoddard piano is made of rosewood, as seen when the lid is raised, which I think is exquisite!

Our great-great grandparents were Thomas Trammell 1747-1823 and Mary Turner Trammell 1757-1851. He was our Revolutionary War ancestor.

Our great grandparents were Farr Harris Trammell, Sr. 1790-1868 and Sarah Haygood Trammell 1795-1868.

My sister, Lanie Virginia and I have a baby sister buried in Fredonia cemetery. She was about 9 months old. Her name was Willie Mae (or May). Our two brothers are buried in Columbus County, North Carolina. Also our parents. After our father Richard Allen Wooten died our mother later married Mr. J.S. Yandle of Charlotte, N.C.

I feel that my sister and our mother and grandmother would be pleased that their Stoddard piano is back in Chambers County, Alabama.

In loving memory of my sister, Lanie Virginia Wooten Couniham, our mother, Ella Eugenia Trammell Wooten Yandle and our grandmother Virginia Lee Stillwell Trammell. My sister Lanie died June 9, 1975.

494 SURROGATES COURT - KINGS CO.
WILL LIBER 290 - p. 494 etc. (4)

In the Name of God, Amen.

I, George W. Stillwell Sr of the City of Brooklyn, N. Y. being of sound and disposing mind and memory, and considering the uncertainty of this life, do make, publish and declare this to be my last Will and Testament as follows.

First, after my lawful debts are paid, I give

First. I give and bequeath to my son George W. Stillwell Jr. all my printed and written books, Maps, Magazines, Pamphlets, and records of every make and kind, except my Family Bible in which is written the record of the Marriages, Births, and Deaths of my Family, excepting books and papers containing accounts that may be useful to my Executors to use for the collection of money or property due my estate.

Second. It is my desire that my Military Commission, discharge from the military service of the United States Army, Swords, Belts, Sashes, Spurs, Haversack, Hat, Cap, ribbons, medals, Badges of Honor, and all other paraphernalia of office, photographs of myself and wife, and of my son James H. Stillwell, Oil paintings of myself and wife, Family Bible, the marriage certificate of myself and wife, certificate of my discharge from the Fire Department of the City of Brooklyn, all be placed in the custody of my son, George W. Stillwell Jr. and by him preserved as family relics, the same to be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of any of my descendants, and at his death or refusal or neglect to take charge of the trust, then my Executor shall have them placed in the custody of the next oldest male descendant who may be properly qualified to have their custody, and in this order descend continuously to my posterity, reserving the same restrictions as to their inspection by my descendants. In case it may be thought advisable by a majority of my sons during their life time, or on the death of all my sons, by their descendants on the male side, to place the war relics, or any part of them in a Public Institution, Memorial building, Museum or Historical Society for safe keeping, or in a Building that may be provided by the public for the collection and preservation of relics of the War of the Rebellion, it may be optional with them to do so.

Third. I further direct that my Watch and Chain, ornaments, clothing, wearing apparel, bed clothing, and furniture be distributed equally among my sons or their heirs; or if

The last three lines read:

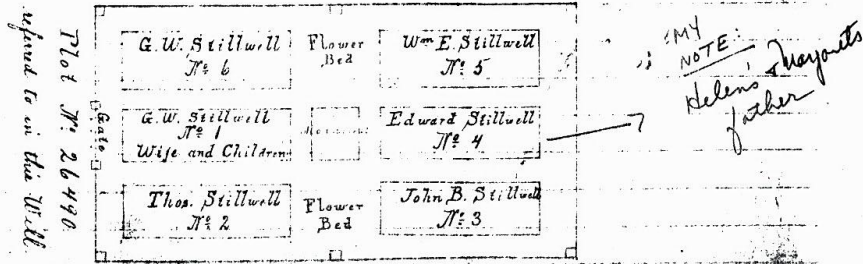

"Third. I further direct that my Watch and Chain, ornaments, clothing, wearing apparel, bed clothing, and furniture be distributed equally among my sons or their heirs; or if"

is found impracticable, then the above described property is to be sold and the proceeds added to my estate and be divided as herein after provided for.

Fourth. I further direct that all my property of any nature and kind remaining, shall be divided into five equal proportions: one portion to be paid in full to my son George W.: one portion to my son William E.: one portion to my son John P. Of the portions to my sons Edward and Thomas, I direct my Executors to pay to each of them $250 (Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars) Investing the remainder of any portion that would otherwise be due them, in some safe Bank of Savings or Trust Company at interest, for the benefit and use of their respective children, to be paid to each child as it arrives to the age of Twenty One years, its portion as the sum remaining in trust sustains to the number of children of my said son Thomas or Edward surviving at that time, which proportion is to be in full of said child's share in my estate. In the event of any of the children of my sons Thomas or Edward not surviving the age that entitles them to be a participant in the trust fund remaining after the different allotments shall have been paid to the children that may have become twenty one years of age, and no issue is surviving, then the balance of any such fund remaining in trust, shall revert to my residuary estate and be divided share and share alike among my surviving children or their heirs.

Fifth. I further direct that the family burial plot in Greenwood Cemetery, Deed No. 26,490, shall never be sold but remain in my name for ever, that my body shall be buried in front of the place marked for a Monument on the diagram in this Will, in the grave marked One, in said diagram, in which my Wife and children are buried. In case of any objections by the Managers of the Cemetery, to my body being laid in the grave named, then I direct that it be interred in the grave marked No Six on the diagram, and to the south of grave No One, and adjoining where my Wife and children are buried. In case no objection is made, and my body is interred in grave No. One then grave No. Six, may be occupied by the body of my son George W. Sulwell, Jr. and his descendants, as provided in the will for the graves of my other sons. The other graves marked respectively Nos. 2, 3, 4 & 5 may be occupied by the remains of my sons Thomas

John B. Edward, and William E. Stillwell and their descendants in the order of numbers as above given. No grave shall be sold or given away, or any remuneration received for the ground for the interment of any person in any of the graves, <sup>or shall any person sign in favor of interment in any of the graves</sup> excepting the wishes of my sons. If either of my sons herein named, should not desire to avail himself of the grave assigned to him or his his descendants, he or they may authorize the interment in the grave assigned to him or them, any of my descendants, but without any compensation of any nature or kind. My Executors shall have power to grant permits for interments in the graves herein named.

I hereby appoint and constitute John B. Bradley of 1st Av. & 79th St. Brooklyn N.Y. George W. Stillwell Jr. of No. 230 Garfield Place, Bklyn. New York and Julius B. Author's note: I have always been concerned that the assignment of this child may be incorrect. The entry in the death registry for Hannah indicated that she was born in Scotland. I have never been able to identify a Henry Stillwell married to a Hannah who was born in Scotland in any of the available records. As such, I will leave the placement as is until additional evidence becomes available.

Kathleen Armstrong Thomerson wrote:

“...I believe I have traced the Stillwell line back as far as possible, but I do not know when or how Christopher decided to come west. He was only 6 months old when his father Christopher Sheldon Stillwell died in 1808 in Hartford. His mother did not remarry. She was from Wethersfield, Conn. and is buried there at First Church. The first record I have of Christopher W. is his marriage to Adeline on 23 March 1830 in Cuyahoga County, Ohio. He is not in the 1830 or 1840 Ohio census under his own name. Also, no land or tax records there in his name at that time. Cuyahoga County was part of the Western reserve of Conn. and the Connecticut Land Company at Hartford handled land sales. I haven't checked their records. ...”

“... Skipping over the rest of the Ohio Archer records, the first Missouri record of Christopher is found in the book HISTORY OF RAY COUNTY, MISSOURI (1881) talking of the village of Millville, '...In 1837, C. W. Stillwell built the first blacksmith shop. The first store was opened about the year 1842...' I have been to Millville. It is very rural, with no stores left now, only a Methodist church and about three houses. So Christopher was a blacksmith in Missouri in 1837. I know the birthplaces of 5 of his children: #2 Mary jane, 1832 Ohio; twins Eliza Wyatt & Lydia Chase (named after Lydia Sheldon Stillwell Chase that you mentioned is buried at Swan Point Cemetery in Providence), 1834 Michigan; #5 George Washington, 1836 Ohio; #7 Harriet Elizabeth 1839 Millville, Missouri (her birthplace is given in our Armstrong family bible). The first census I find Christopher in is the 1850 census of Ray County, Missouri, living as a blacksmith in Millville. He should be there in the 1840 census but isn't. I wonder if he was the only one of the family that came west.” (Kathleen Armstrong Thomerson, Kathleen Armstrong Thomerson - Research By. Letter dated 27 November, 1989. "Adeline was born in Ohio on 3 January 1811, so her father must have been an early settler. If he was in Cuyahoga County, there is only one Archer household, William Archer, and in the 1820 census he has a daughter age 1 to 10. He was in Newburgh Township, south of Cleveland, now part of the 18th Ward of Cleveland. He is not in the 1810 census, but there is a William Archer in the Connecticut 1810 census, Toland Co., Coventry. If it is the same family, Adeline's mother died in Ohio. There is a marriage record for William Archer March. Elizabeth Carpenter November. 19 1811 in Cuyahoga County. Adeline would be 10 months old at the time." “NICHOLAS R. STILLWELL

Nicholas R. Stillwell, of Gravesend, who died last Wednesday of apoplexy, after a short illness of a few hours, was born within a short distance of his late residence, and had lived all his life in the town. He followed the business of farming until the last ten years, and was remarkably successful. He was greatly respected by all who were acquainted with him. As a friend, it can be said of him, that his friendship was enduring and firm. He leaves a widow and four children, all of whom were married, excepting the youngest.

He had held the office of Assessor of the Town, but has never aspired to any other public position, He was without doubt the wealthiest man in Gravesend, having added to his earnings as a farmer by judicious investments. He is one of the few farms in the county towns not yet cut up by land speculators, but it is likely that it will go that way when the heirs are compelled to partition it. Mr. Stillwell was one on the descendants of the original Stillwells who divided the town, and his is of the originally divided property.”

"Death of Alexander Stilwell, Adjutant 84th Regiment, Ohio Volunteers Inf. At Camp Lawrence, Cumberland, Maryland

After Devine services in Camp Lawrence, August. 24, 1862, Col. Wm. Lawrence addressed the Regiment as follows: Officers and Soldiers of the 84th Regiment: -- It becomes my sad and solemn duty to announce to you the decease of Alexander Stilwell the Adjutant of this Reg. He departed this life on the 18th of August., at a private residence near this camp, at the age of 28 years. On the 1st of July, he was attacked with laryngitis, which gradually extended to the lungs and resisting all the well directed efforts of medical science, finally terminated in death. Alexander Stilwell was born in New York City. I have not been able to ascertain the time he came to Ohio but it must have been at an early age. He served in some capacity in the Mexican War under command of Gen. Scott, but the particulars of that service I have been unable to ascertain. He was an educated man of decided talents, and by profession a lawyer, located at Alliance, Stark County, Ohio.

At the commencement of this unfortunate rebellion early in 1861, he entered military service of the country as Captain of Co. H., 19th Ohio Regiment, commanded by Col. Samuel Beatty. At the battle of Rich Mountain his was one of three companies that the Regiment held in reserve, which did not enjoy the honor and privilege of firing on the rebels, though occupying a position to be under fire, the rebel bullets passing harmlessly over the heads of those reserve companies. That regiment served three months.

Again in May last, he enlisted a portion of a company about Salem, Columbiana Co., Ohio, where he had resided and was well known, and at Camp Chase united his men with those of Capt. Wm. A. Powell, and thus organized Co. G., of this Regiment. He was commissioned as adjutant of the Regiment. The early period at which he was attacked by disease, deprived the Regiment of his services except for a short time in the commencement, yet we can all bear a willing testimony to his efficiency as an officer for he performed every duty faithfully and well.

In the death of Adjutant Stilwell, cut off as he was in early manhood, the country sustained a loss. A faithful man in the military service in the present condition of affairs, cannot be too highly appreciated. He must sacrifice the quiet, the comforts, the social enjoyments of home to encounter the perils of war from disease and the enemy's bullets. All this he must do to render a service to his country, to the cause of Truth, Justice and Good Government. These sacrifices were freely made by Adjutant Stilwell. His life has been rendered upon the altar of his country. A soldier and a patriot is gone. Those who knew Adjutant Stilwell best are most ready to bear ample testimony to his virtues and worth. He was "the noblest work of God" – an honest man. In all the relations of life, he was respected by all who knew him. He has done all that a patriot and good man can do for his country and for mankind.

Thereupon Acting Adjutant James Wallace 2nd Lieut. Of Co. F, offered the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty Ruler of the Universe, whose decrees are inscrutable and beyond our comprehension, to remove from our midst our friend, companion and fellow soldier, by disease, in the person of Lieut. Alexander Stilwell of Salem, Columbiana county, Ohio; We the members of the 84th Regiment of Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and particularly of Company G., to which he was first attached, while submissively bowing to the hand that has afflicted us, would show our appreciation of his worth and our sorrow for his loss, by adopting the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the death of Lieut. Alexander Stilwell the 84th Regiment has lost a faithful and energetic soldier and officer, who in the short period of his service, has deserved and won the esteem and friendship of his brother-officers and soldiers.

Resolved, That the members of the 84th Regiment are deeply sensible of the loss of a fellow soldier and comrade, whose kindness and gentlemanly deportment have rendered him a favorite of the Regiment.

Resolved, That the members of Company G, enlisted at Salem, to whom he was more particularly known, feel that in losing him they have lost a loved and respected friend and soldier, a useful citizen and an upright man.

Resolved, That the members of the 84th Regiment of Ohio Volunteer Infantry are desirous of manifesting their sincere sympathy with the bereaved relatives and friends of the deceased.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions be sent to the relatives of the deceased, and one to the Salem Republican for publication."

Children of Ann Stilwell and Joseph White were as follows:

5434 i Alletta Ann<sup>8</sup> White [37800], born<sup>4819, 4820</sup> 1843 in Kings County, New York.

Author's note: I have placed Alletta as a child of Ann Stilwell and Joseph White based strictly on comparative ages. Joseph's second wife, Sarah Stilwell (the sister of Ann Stilwell) would have been fourteen at the time of Alletta's birth. This is not unheard of but also not common. Ann would have been fifteen at the time of Alletta's birth. This is more plausible. Another possibility is that Alletta was the child of a wife to Joseph prior to his marriage to Ann.

Marriage:

Reference (a) above p. 182.

Author's note: The 1880 through 1920 New York Federal Census records indicate that Eliza was born around 1848/1849. This conflicts with the earlier census records of 1860 and 1870 which indicate that she was born around 1853. I have kept the 1853 date based on the earlier census records.

<sup>5641</sup> Author's note: In 1870, Benjamin and Josephine Clark, ages 10 and 8 years respectively, were enumerated with Solomon's household. Both children were born in Indiana. It appears that they were the children of his wife Elizabeth by a previous marriage.

<sup>5642</sup> Author's note: In 1880, two stepdaughters were enumerated with Solomon's household. Nancy Stevens (Stephens), age 11 years, is obviously the daughter of Susan by a previous marriage. The relationship of the second stepdaughter Victoria Williams, age 18 years, is not clear. I do not know if she is Susan's daughter by another previous marriage or the stepdaughter of Solomon's by a marriage occurring between Elizabeth and Susan.

Misc: Excerpts from correspondence published in the Clinton Public on January 14, 1864 relating the circumstances of the wounding of Winfield follows:

"Knoxville, East Tenn., December. 6th, 1863

Again, through the kindness of Almighty God, I am permitted to write to you a few words that you may learn that after all the fearful struggles in which we have engaged I am still alive with the principal part of a victorious army.

I feel sad and lonely today; the sun shines brightly, and all nature looks gay and happy, but after all, my mind is not satisfied under present conditions. I suppose that you have been receiving very discouraging news of late, in reference to the army of Gen. BURNSIDE. Truly it has undergone a great deal of suffering within the last three weeks. On the 14th ult., we received orders to be ready to move at a moment's warning, soon after which every thing was packed and ready for transportation and at three o'clock next morning we moved off in the direction of Lenoir Station, six miles from Loudon, towards Knoxville. Rumor said that the rebels, under command of Gen. LONGSTREET, were crossing the river four miles below us, and were using every endeavor to flank our forces. The report was not altogether unfounded, for after we had marched to Lenoir. Gen. Burnside met us there and ordered us back to do battle. All day, or until four o'clock in the afternoon, the rain poured down on us. About that time our forces hove in sight of Loudon. After marching down the river for about a mile, the whole of the forces was brought to a halt. Our regiment (the 107th) was selected to make the first charge upon the enemy, who were secreted in an old school house and in thick underbrush not far off. Just before we were ordered forward on the "double quick," General White, our pision commander, rode up to us and said: "Boys, remember Illinois! Three cheers!" Many a shout and halloo went up as we strode swiftly across hill and valley towards the enemy. We drove them about three miles down the river, and to say the least, they got out of our way in a hurry. After skirmishing through the woods for a considerable length of time, we heard the sound of musketry on our left. Lieut. Col. LOWRY gave the command, and our regiment was quickly taken to the relief of the 13th Ky. When we arrived at the foot of the hill upon which the enemy was stationed, we formed in line of battle and marched upon him. For three quarters of an hour thereafter, a spirited conflict ensued, the terminus of which ended in our favor.

The missels [sic] of death fell thick around us, but we went forth with unflinching steps, thinking not of the danger of our own lives but of the cause that called us to the struggle. Dennis LERRY [Leary], of Co. H, was killed, and Winfield THROGMARTIN [Throckmorton], of Co. B, slightly wounded in the foot—the only casualties in our regiment. ...

Notes for William Hatcher Stokes (Doctor)

Misc: A biographical sketch follows:

“Dr. W.H. Stokes

William Hatcher Stokes was born in Warren County on July 23, 1820. He was the youngest and eleventh child of William and Hannah Hatcher Stokes.

He entered Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, at the age of 18. He later returned to Lebanon where he received private schooling from a Professor Bousal.

In February 1841, Governors Morrow and Corwin recommended him to an appointment at West Point. He entered the establishment the following June.

He willfully resigned his position of cadet as of April 18, 1844. After returning home he received a letter from Maj. Dilatush commending him on his "manly deportment while a member of the institution and assuring him of the respect and esteem in which he was held by the faculty." In November of the same year he began the study of medicine under Dr. M.H. Keever of Ridgeville.

He attended lectures at Dartmouth College and also at the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati. From this last institution he graduated in the spring of 1848. He began practicing medicine the same year with Dr. Keever.

He retired from the medical field in the spring of 1861 and pursued a career in agriculture, an interest that had always been in the back of his mind.

He married Susana Throckmorton on January 31, 1849, and fathered thirteen children. Dr. Stokes was a devoted Democrat in politics and was elected to two terms in the Ohio Senate.

His religious beliefs were handed down through his parents, that of the Hicksite Friends, a tradition he followed to his death.

Dr. W.H. Stokes died at his home in Lytle on May 17, 1896. He had been in failing health for more than a year. Prior to a few hours before his death he was considered to be holding his own. A large gathering of family and friends attended the funeral. In compliance with the Quaker rites a few brief remarks were made eulogizing Dr. Stokes. His old intimate friend, David Furnace, delivered an inspiring prayer. The interment was at Miami Cemetery in Corwin.” (Dallas Bogan, Warren County Local History, n.d., <<http://www.rootsweb.ancestry.com/~ohwarren/Bogan/bogan215.htm>>)
