PREFACE

This is the fourth volume of an eight volume set of documented descendants of Lieutenant Nicholas Stillwell. As was stated in the preface of the third volume, the ninth generation of Lieutenant Nicholas Stillwell's descendants were many in number. A single volume was far too large to handle and print. As such, I found it necessary to divide the ninth generation into two part. I continue to struggle with identifying the point at which a given family line switched to the use of three —L version of the surname and in some cases when the descendants of a given line switched back to the four —L version. The difficulty continues to be with documenting consistent usage. —Gay areas" persist in which clarity is not readily apparent. Errors have most likely been made in this regard. I hope that these errors will be minimal in number.

I again express my deepest appreciation to those who generously shared their research with me and also to my wife, Barbara, and son, Andrew, for their encouragement and support over the past years.

The Ninth Generation Descendants – Part II

4661. Mary⁸ Stilwell [503] (Nicholas⁷, Nicholas⁶, John⁵, Nicholas⁴, Thomas³, Nicholas², Nicholas¹), born¹ 6 September 1855 in Newark, Essex, New Jersey; died 9 August 1884 in Menlo Park, Middlesex, New Jersey. She married on 25 December 1871 in Newark, Essex, New Jersey Thomas Alva Edison^{2,3} [507], born⁴ 11 February 1847 in Milan, Erie, Ohio; died 18 October 1931 in New Jersey.

"Mary Stilwell was born in Newark, New Jersey on September 6, 1855, the daughter of Nicholas Stilwell and Margaret Crane. At his subsidiary, the News Reporting Telegraph Company in Newark, Edison had noticed the 16-year-old punching perforations into telegraph tape. She married the 24-year-old inventor on Christmas Day 1871. Even on his wedding day, Edison returned to his laboratory after the ceremony to work on the stock ticker. One story states that Edison worked late into the night, forgetting about his waiting bride. W.K.L. Dickson, one of Edison's "muckers," wrote that Mary was "greatly beloved by the men in Edison's employ" at Menlo Park. "They were proud of her--for she had been one of their own rank in the Newark shop and yet remained as gracious and friendly to them as ever." Sadly, Mary's health deteriorated and she died on August 9, 1884 at the age of 29. Although many books say that Mary died of typhoid, her death certificate states that she died of "congestion of the brain." Mary and Thomas Edison had three children in their 13 years of marriage. However, since none of them had children of their own, there are no living direct descendants of Thomas and Mary Stilwell Edison." (U. S. Department of the Interior, National Park Service, Edison National Historic Site, n.d., <<http://www.nps.gov/edis/historyculture/mary-stilwell-edison.htm>>)

"Something of Edison's character shows in the relation of his laboratory work and his two marriages. A brief business venture at the end of 1871 was the occasion of his meeting Mary Stilwell, a 16-year-old employee he married two months later on Christmas Day. By early February he was distressed enough to record in a laboratory notebook, "Mrs Mary Edison My wife

"Edison's first child was a daughter, Marion, born in 1872. As a girl Edison affectionately called her -Dot," a reference to Morse Code. Her little brother Thomas, Jr., was called -Dash." Edison and Mary had a third child, William, who was born in 1878. Mary Edison died in 1884, and Edison married 20-year old Mina Miller two years later. This marriage was difficult for some of Edison's children to accept. Mina was closer in age to Marion than she was to her husband and the two had an uneasy, difficult relationship. Marion felt displaced in the family by Edison's young wife. As a result of the tension between Mina and Marion a rift grew between Marion and her father as well. Marion often felt neglected by her father. As a teenager she spent a lot of time in Europe and at one point developed smallpox, a serious, potentially fatal disease. Throughout the seven week duration of the illness, she received only two letters from her father. This type of indifference hurt Marion very much." 1872. As a child, her nickname was "Dot," a reference to the Morse code used to send messages on telegraphs. Between her mother's death and her father's remarriage, 12-year-old Marion spent a great deal of time with her father. He even sent her out to buy his cigars. She claims to have seen Edison propose marriage to Mina Miller using Morse code. Marion boarded at Somerville Seminary in Somerville, New Jersey, and Bradford Academy in Bradford, Massachusetts. In 1892 she married Karl Oscar Oeser, a German army lieutenant, and lived in Germany even through the First World War. Although she described her marriage as "one long drawn out honeymoon," it ended in divorce in 1921. She then returned to the United States, where she died on April 16, 1965." (U. S. His next marriage, to Beatrice Heyzer, endured. After selling the use of his name to advertise "quack" medicines and dubious inventions, his father asked Tom Junior to change his name. This he did, briefly going by the name of Thomas Willard. His efforts at inventing and, later, starting a mushroom farm failed. His father told a friend about his oldest son, "I never could get him to go to school or work in the

"William Leslie was born on October 26, 1878. Like his older brother, William boarded at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire, and the J. M. Hawkins School on Staten Island. He later studied at the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale. He married Blanche Travers. He served in the military during the Spanish-American War in 1898 and again in the First World War (though he wrote his father in 1918 in a failed attempt to get a discharge). Relations between William and his father were strained. Edison once responded to a request for money from Blanche Edison by writing, "I see no reason whatever why I should support my son. He has done me no honor and has brought the blush of shame to my cheeks many times." Like his brother he turned to farm life, breeding chickens. He died on August 10, 1937." (U. S. John Wood Stillwell served as a private with C Company of the 11th Tennessee Confederate Cavalry Regiment. The regiment was formed in February of 1863 through the consolidation of Holman's and part of Douglass' Tennessee Cavalry Battalion. The regiment was attached to Forrest's, Humes', J.B. Biffle's and Dibrell's Brigade. and took an active part in the engagements at Brentwood and Chickamauga. It was also heavily engaged in the Atlanta Campaign and Hood's operations in Tennessee. During January, 1865, it was combined with the remnants of the 10th Tennessee Confederate Cavalry Regiment. By May of 1865 the regiment had 30 officers and 280 men. The regiment surrendered with the Department of Alabama, Mississippi, and East Louisiana at the end of the war. "Last Saturday a painful accident occurred to Mr. George Stillwell of this place which resulted in his death the day following. Mr. Stillwell will probably be better known to many as the proprietor of the Southern Hotel, opposite the Mo. P. Depot at this place. The facts are briefly as follows: On Saturday morning, before day, George Stillwell and Joe Back, his brother-in-law, went down to the mouth of the Bonne Femme River hunting ducks. At the Bonne Femme they were slipping up on some ducks, Stillwell being at the oars and Back with his loaded gun was sitting right behind him. The careless part of the affair is in the fact that Back was carrying his gun with both locks cocked. While carrying his gun in this dangerous condition the cap dropped off of one tube; he stopped and got the cap and replaced it, and the supposing he was pulling the trigger of the hammer he held with his thumb, pulled the other, discharging the contents, a load of duck shot, in the left shoulder of his brother-in-law, Stillwell, just in the deltoid muscle, tearing away the point of the shoulder and lodging the load in the upper part of the left breast and lung. This happened about four miles below this city and on the Howard county side. Back then left Stillwell and went for Mr. Long, on Charley Canoles place, in Howard, and Mr. Long and himself brought him to town in a wagon. As soon as they reached town medical aid was procured and amputation decided upon, but Drs. Holman, Cooper, Howard and Hurt on visiting him for that purpose, discovered that reaction had not taken place and found it unnecessary. He lingered through Saturday and Saturday night and died Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. No Coroner's inquest was held, the victim repeating time and again that it was an accident and his brother-in-law was not to blame for it, and the family and friends were also perfectly satisfied of the truth of it. Joe Back, of course, is very distressed and has been sadly taught the lesson of being careful." Author's note: The structural dynamics of John's family is an enigma base on the limited documentation found. In 1870, the Nebraska Federal Census record shows him being married to Amanda and having four children. Frances and Fanny were born in Illinois while Elsworth and Joseph were born in Iowa and Nebraska respectively. In the 1880 Wyoming Federal Census, all of these individuals are found in close proximity but under different family groups. John is now married to Frances (his daughter in 1870) along with a daughter Elizabeth. They were enumerated with John's father, Robert, and the record clearly indicates that Robert was the head of household and Elizabeth being his granddaughter. Immediately adjacent to this family group was Amanda under the surname of Smith. Enumerated with her were Elsworth and Joseph listed as her stepsons. I am assuming that Amanda had been previously married before 1870 and that Frances and Fanny were her children and enumerated under the Stillwell name in 1870. Elsworth and Joseph are most likely children of John and Amanda. One can only speculate as to the reason John and Amanda appears to have separated by 1880 with John subsequently marrying his stepdaughter.

Children of John A. Stillwell (Private/USA) and Amanda (---) were as follows:

- 8970 i Elsworth⁹ Stillwell [42903], born^{226, 227} 1867 in Iowa.

⁴¹⁶ Author's note: Her death is an assumption on my part which is based solely on the information recorded for her mother in the 1900 New York Federal Census regarding the total number of children living versus the number born to her. All six living children at the time can be accounted for. Only Lulu could not be located. As such, I assume she had died before 1900.

Author's note: She was enumerated under the given name of Florence in the 1910 and 1920 New York Federal Census records. In 1900, she was enumerated with her parents and Alfred was enumerated with his parents. Both entries indicated that they were married for two years and that Lottie had one living child. I could not locate the child. As to why they were living apart, one can only speculate. The census records do not correlate with the information provided by Doctor John Edwin Stillwell. I am utilizing the information recorded in the census records for this couple.

Death:

"Col. Lawrence Rhoades, a traveling salesman from Providence, R. I., who has been staying the past week at the Metropolitan Hotel, was stricken with apoplexy late last night in his room. At 10:20 o'clock his condition became so serious that an ambulance was summoned; and he was removed to the New York Hospital. At a late hour last night he was still living. Col. Rhoades is fifty-eight years old." (New York Times, Traveling Salesman Stricken (New York Times, January 29, 1910).

Author's note: I cannot account for the discrepancy between the various source records regarding the date and place of Colonel Lawrence Rhoades death. The New York times article of January 29, 1910 was specific in that Colonel Rhoades was still alive at 10:20 PM the evening of January 28, 1910 when he was transported by ambulance from his hotel to New York Hospital.

Misc:

Lawrence Rhoades served as a private with I Company of the 44th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry Regiment. He enlisted on August 28, 1862 and served with the regiment until June 4, 1863 when he was discharged with disability. His discharge occurred 14 days prior to the regiment being mustered out of service.

The regiment was organized at Readville, Massachusetts and was mustered in the service on September 12, 1862 and was relocated to New Berne, North Carolina, being attached to the 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, Department of North Carolina. During January 1863 the regiment was attached to the 2nd Brigade, 4th Division, 18th Army Corps, Department of North Carolina. The regiment was engaged in skirmishes during its tour of duty with the Department of North Carolina. A total of 11 enlisted men were killed or mortally wounded with another 30 men dying from various disease related causes. (National Park Service, Civil War Soldiers & Sailors System, n.d., <<http://www.itd.nps.gov/cwss/soldiers.htm>> (National Archive Roll No. M544_33)).

Lawrence subsequently received a commission as a Captain with the Commissary Department Regiment US Volunteers on July 2, 1864. He received a series of Brevet promotions culminating with Brevet Colonel on March 28, 1865. He was mustered out of the Commissary Department Regiment on August 22, 1865.

Doctor John E. Stillwell wrote: —William H. Stillwell was a scholarly man with a marked fondness for genealogical and historical Research which he utilized to the fullest degree in the study of his immediate line of the Stillwell family - Capt. Nicholas Stillwell, son of Lieut. Nicholas Stillwell, the Emigrant. As a youth he taught school in the villages of Hempstead and Gravesend on Long Island. This he abandoned for civil engineering in which he shortly became the recognized authority in the southern part of Kings County. From this he passed to a study of law and commenced practice in 1873, met with success, but withdrew to become the private attorney of Mr. Engeman, a pioneer in the development of Coney Island, as a seaside resort. Foreseeing its possibilities, Mr. Stillwell bought the entire property known as Manhattan and Brighton Beach but prematurely disposed of it with meager profit to himself. He was a prodigious worker and wrote and rewrote several times the results of his study of the Stillwell family, but unfortunately for the sake of accuracy he was hasty in his transcriptions of dates. He was a liberal contributor of articles for local and county papers, historical and otherwise; author of The History Of The Dutch Reformed Church of Gravesend; a brochure on The Genealogy Of The Stillwell Family, etc., etc. He superintended the construction of the first church on Coney Island and served fourteen years as Justice of the Peace in Gravesend.

Mr. Stillwell had a very pleasant manner and one of the softest voices conceivable. He was preeminently a tactician, and his suave deportment fitted him peculiarly to contend successfully with the troublesome sides of political and harsher life; it was thus became valuable to Austin Corbin, John Y. McKane and Mr. Engeman. He was a man of convivial tastes, fond of horse flesh and the entertainment of kindred spirits. He wasted much of his substance, through it was considerable in size, and the balance he lost in unfortunate speculation. His life was ended abruptly and under circumstances which raised the suspicion that was by self intent, a conclusion frequently reached by the hasty and thoughtless, when the success of life has fled. A careful investigation, however, dispersed all thought of such kind.”

Author's note: Herbert's World War I draft registration card shows that he served one year as a Private with an artillery unit. A notation on the second page of the registration card reads Corp/5th Co. EBC Governor's Island. I am assuming that this notation was a reference to a Corporal from the 5th Company who verified the information.

David Stillwell wrote:

—If I am correct, Frederick's date of birth was sometime in 1867 or 1869. He passed away in 1940 or 1941. He's buried at sea off the north shore of Long Island. As I was born in 1947 I never knew him. I do, however, have an enlarged photo of him taken in the early 1920's on board his sailboat. He had the look of the then typical "old salt" in pea coat, cap and pipe.

I do know he had a brother Walter who had two daughters. As Frederick had only 1 son this line was close to losing direct name lineage. Luckily, there were 4 boys & 1 girl in the next generation which shows hope for carrying the name onward..”(David Stillwell (See No. 14216 Volume 6), "David Stillwell - Personal Recollections" (David Stillwell, 300 Washington Avenue Elyria, Ohio 44035), Letter dated February 12, 1989.)

I Charlotte Stilwell of the City of Brooklyn, County of Kings, State of N. Y. being in good health but mindful of the uncertainty of life, do for the disposition after my death of the estate with which my Heavenly Father hath entrusted me, make, publish and affirm this to be my last will and testament.

It is my will and I hereby direct my Executor herein after named to sell as soon after my decease as can conveniently be done, all my Estate both real and personal except that portion herein after mentioned as bequeathed in legacies. And pay my funeral expenses and all my just debts and the legacies hereafter mentioned and divide the remaining proceeds equally between my children, except my son Benjamin M. Stilwell who assures me he does not wish me to leave him by will any part or portion of my property having already an abundance of the worlds goods, however I hereby bequeath to him as a memento of affection the silver box lined with gold which was presented to his father by his friend Dully bearing a description to that effect. I hereby give and bequeath to my daughter Mary Whiting two thousand dollars 2000 and to my daughter Sarah A. Davis, the Bond and Mortgage which I hold on the property at Bergen Point, N. J. and to my Son Thomas H. Stilwell, the note which I hold and the interest which may be due on them. And to my daughter Hannah M. Stilwell I hereby give and bequeath my property in Columbus, Ga of whatever it may consist, and my interest in the house and lot 199 Livingstone Street Brooklyn, L.I. I hereby give and devise my Executor hereafter named to pay to my Son Samuel D. Stilwell, four thousand dollars 4000. And to my Grand children George L. Stilwell and Mary Frances Stilwell each five hundred dollars $500. I hereby give to my sister Persia Columare if living one hundred dollars $100. If either of my above mentioned children shall have deceased leaving children then the children of each deceased child shall have their share, the same as such deceased child would have had were he or she living.

And I hereby direct, limit and appoint that the house 85 Henry Street Brooklyn, that was conveyed in the year 1847 by my son Benjamin M. Stilwell to my husband S. B. Stilwell in trust for my use & benefit in consideration of the natural love and affection which he had for me, and one dollar paid to him and the deed of which is on record in the office of the Register of Kings County, shall be conveyed by such trustee as may have been or shall be appointed in the place of my said husband now deceased, to my Executors herein named, to be by them disposed of as directed above. I hope the disposition of my estate will be satisfactory to all of my beloved children & as it was honestly acquired by my late beloved husband. I trust the blessing of God will accompany it.

I hereby nominate, constitute & appoint Mr. John C. Smith, Mr. Hiram Combe & my daughter Hannah M. Stilwell of Brooklyn Executors of my last will & testament. I hereby authorize them to give deeds and all other instruments necessary to effect the above sale the settlement of my estate.

In witness whereof I hereby set my hand and seal the 24th day of April 1873.

Signed Sealed published and declared by the Testatrix above named as and for her last

-GEN. DANIEL I. HUNTLEY

The father of our subject, Daniel Huntley, Sr., was a native of Connecticut, and married Catharine, daughter of Thomas Stillwell. Mr. Huntley, in 1816, left Cortland Co., N. Y. for a trip to Ohio, intending to locate in Columbus or Cincinnati, but when he had got so far on his way as Olean Point, he was induced to purchase of Levi Gregory three tracts of land in Franklinville, on which considerable improvements had been made. He then returned East, and in the following spring removed with his family to his new home in this county. Having brought with him from the East thirty cows, he immediately commenced a dairy, - presumably the first in the county. He shipped the produce of his farms to Olean, then looming up as a place of prospective importance. He carried on farming operations quite largely for that early day. When the county-seat was removed to Ellicottville, he came hither and purchased an eighty-acre tract of Spencer Pitcher, now occupied by his son, Daniel. I. He also bought another farm, one hundred and fifty acres, located farther east, in the same town. These were subsequently increased to nine hundred acres. In 1820 he built and the following year opened the "Mansion House" which he kept till the time of his death, July 5, 1846. The hotel was continued by his family until about seven years since, when it was sold. Mrs. Catharine S. Huntley died December. 7, 1864, at Ellicottville. Their marital relations were blessed with eight children (of whom six still survive), namely, William, who died in 1827, and was the first person buried by the Masonic fraternity in Ellicottville; Thomas S., a farmer in McHenry Co., Ill, located at Huntley Station, which was named in his honor; Daniel I, the subject of this notice; Silas, a commission merchant, residing in Chicago; Samuel, a farmer, and Amy, unmarried, both living in Ellicottville; Catharine, deceased (in 1827); and Jane M., wife of P. J. McGowen, a merchant, and residing in the State of Oregon.

Daniel I., son of Daniel and Catharine (Stillwell) Huntley, was born in the town of Cincinnatus, Cortland Co., NY., Sept 5, 1810. He married, in 1840, Miss Eliza Hawkins, a native of Massachusetts. She died in April, 1852. He took as his second wife, January 2, 1855, Miss Cordelia V. Chamberlain, a native of Wooster, Mass.

Mr. Huntley lived with his father, working on the farm and assisting in the management of the hotel, but since the sale of the latter he has confined himself solely to agricultural pursuits. During his early life (from 1827, and for many years) he took a prominent part in the military affairs of this State, - commencing as second sergeant, and passing all the grades up to that of brigadier-general, and performing the duties of all the several offices up to the command of a brigade [Author's note: 54th Brigade New York State Militia]. He also held several civil offices; besides some minor positions, he was supervisor of the town of Mansfield for two years, and held the office of county treasurer from 1843 to 1846. He is a member of the Episcopal Church, having been confirmed by Bishop Coxe over forty years ago. His present wife is a communicant of the same church. His family, by his first wife, numbered four children, - Silas S., Henry, Charles A., and Eliza S. - of whom the first named only survives. Henry was shot at the battle of Williamsburg, and died of the effects of his wound; Charles went West, and died in Montana; and Eliza died young. Silas S., the eldest son, is now, and has been for a number of years, engaged as one of a company of United States mail contractors, being located at Washington. He was a soldier during the war of the Rebellion, as a member of the 64th New York Volunteer Regiment [Author's note: Actually the 37th NYVI Regiment], and sustained an honorable record. He held the rank of first lieutenant, serving on the staff of Gen. Berry, as aide to Col. De Lancy, commanding brigade, and also in the office of the commissary Department of Prisoners, at Washington, D. C.

By his second wife he has had four children, - William D., Sophia E., Walter H., and Arthur A., - all unmarried and living at home, except William, who is engaged with Silas S. in the stock business in Montana.

Gen. Huntley has always been a hard-working, enthusiastic farmer. For the past twenty-five years he has made it his special business to make his living out of the soil. He does not intend to be placed on the "retired" list while he has strength left to labor on the farm, having entered upon it as a life-vocation. He is a self-made man, a good farmer, a kind neighbor, sympathetic friend, a consistent Christian, in politics a Republican, and generally esteemed." —SILAS HUNTLEY.—In an editorial a leading daily of the state capital referred to the death of Silas S. Huntley as a “public loss.” Mr. Huntley had to do with affairs of great scope and importance, and his life has a value in its every transition. The Montana Daily Record of September 12, 1901, said: “In the death of Mr. Huntley one of the picturesque types of the Montana pioneer has been removed. His genius for the promotion and successful management of great western enterprises was recognized throughout the broad west years before the iron horse entered as a factor in the cast transportation business of the Pacific coast.” When we state that Mr.

Huntley and his associates established and controlled every original stage line in Montana, some idea may be formed of the extent and importance of his business operations; but, above all this was the personality of the man, who “stood four-square to every wind that blows,” and won the abiding friendship and regard of all with whom he came in contact, by the integrity and loyalty of his character, by his sympathetic and genial nature and by his inflexible honesty. He was a distinct man, a true man, and none is more worthy of a tribute of honor. Such lives as his offer both lessons and incentive.

Silas S. Huntley was born in Ellicottville, Cattaraugus county, N. Y., May 2, 1831 [Author's note: the year of birth is actually 1841], the son of Daniel Huntley, who was a native of New York and married a Miss Hawkins, of New England, Both represented old families of the early epoch in our national history. Daniel Huntley occupied a high position in the community, owned much real estate, and in his church, the Episcopal, held the office of senior warden. His wife was, however, a Presbyterian. This worthy couple lived useful lives and both died at their New York home. Their son Silas was a student at the Springville Academy when the dark cloud of the civil war rose from the national horizon. Ever responsive to the call of duty, the young man abandoned his studies to participate in the great internecine strife in history, enlisting in the Thirty-seventh New York Volunteer Infantry. He was rapidly promoted, served on the staffs of Gens. Barry and Kearney, and was with each of these officers when he was killed. He was in service in the first and second battles of Bull Run, the conflict at Williamsburg, the sanguinary Seven Days' fight and other early battles of the contest. At the close of the war he was mustered out of service, a valiant and loyal veteran, and returned to New York [Author's note: In actuality, he was mustered out of the service in June of 1863 when the 37th NYVI Regiment completed its' term of service.].

In 1867 Mr. Huntley came up the Missouri river to Montana, and here his initiative and progressive spirit was soon in evidence. He organized the stage lines between Helena and Fort Benton, from Helena to Diamond City, Lincoln, Virginia City and Bannock, also from Helena to Fort Abercrombie, and those between Missoula and Walla Walla, Wash.; Virginia City to Bozeman, and from Bozeman and Helena to Tongue river. He and his cousin, Charles C. Huntley, and Bradley Barlow, then president of the Vermont Central Railroad, controlled all stage lines in Montana that from Helena to Salt Lake City, and held all mail contracts over the great stage lines of the west, the longest being between St. Louis and Walla Walla via Boise, Idaho. The stage line between Missoula and Walla Walla was sublet to Senator W. A. Clark, and through his successful operations was created the nucleus of his immense fortune. The most important line in both passenger and freight business was the old Shasta stage line, which handled all travel between Oregon and California. These partners originated every stage line in Montana and controlled an immense business until the expiration of their mail contracts, when occurred the failure of Mr. Barlow, entailing great financial loss to the Messrs. Huntley. They were then making arrangements with the Emperor of Brazil to operate stage lines in that South American empire, but abandoned this project after their losses.

Mr. Huntley retired from the stage business in 1878, and in company with P. B. Clark, now of Helena, engaged in raising standard-bred horses near Toston, Meagher county. The Huntley and Clark ranch soon became famous for its fine grade of horses, and a number of them soon made conspicuous records on the turf in the east. When the depreciation of the horse market came, Mr. Huntley directed his great energies and executive abilities into other channels of enterprise, though he still retained his ranch property. In 1891 he became the organizer and manager of the Yellowstone Park Transportation Company, which he conducted until his death. He advanced this enterprise to the important position it holds, that of providing transportation and other accommodations for the greater portion of the tourist business in this splendid “Wonderland.” Early in 1901 this company acquired from the Northern Pacific Railroad all its hotels in the park and conducted them in connection with the transportation business.

In politics Mr. Huntley was from a Republican deeply attached to the principles of his party, and believing in the beneficence of their application in the government of his country. He was a faithful follower of President McKinley, with whom his personal relations were intimate and tender, so much so, in fact that the violent death of the President profoundly affected Mr. Huntley, it being to him a keen personal bereavement. He was also warmly interested in his soldier comrades, being a zealous member of Wadsworth Post No. 2, G. A. R., at Helena, and also of the Loyal Legion. Some twenty years before his death Mr. Huntley was united in marriage with Anna Dean, who was born in Madison, Wis., a daughter of Simeon and Ellen (Watson) Dean. Simeon Dean belonged to the prominent Dean family of Massachusetts, where he himself was born. Ellen Watson Dean was a native of New Hampshire. The eminent ancestors of both came from England.

Mr. Huntley's executive ability was almost phenomenal, and his name is indissolubly connected with Montana history from early pioneer days until his death placed a seal upon his brow. He was well known and honored by many eminent public men of the nation, had a wide acquaintance in the national capital and counted among his intimate friends such men as Whitelaw Reid and Murat Halstead. His last illness was of brief duration, and his life ended at his cottage, at Mammoth Hot Springs, in the Yellowstone National Park, on September 11, 1901, from whence his remains were brought to Helena for interment. His death came as a personal bereavement to his hosts of old-time friends in Montana who deeply appreciated his noble and useful life. He had to an eminent degree the quality of making steadfast friends, and the memory of his life rests as a benediction on those nearest and dearest to him." Silas S. Huntley served as a Lieutenant with I Company of the 37th New York Volunteer Infantry Regiment which was organized at New York City and mustered into the service on June 7, 1861. The regiment left for Washington, D. C., on June 23, 1861 and was initially assigned to Hunter's Brigade, Division of the Potomac. During October of 1861 the regiment was transferred to Richardson's Brigade, Heintzelman's Division, Army of the Potomac. The regiment was subsequently assigned to the 3rd Brigade, 3rd Division, 3rd Army Corps, Army of the Potomac in March of 1862. During July of 1862 the regiment was assigned to 3rd Brigade, 1st Division, 3rd Army Corps.

During the regiments tour of service it participated in the Siege of Yorktown and in the Battles of Williamsburg, Seven Pines, Oak Grove, Malvern Hill, Bull Run, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville. The regiment was mustered out of the service on June 22, 1863. The regiment lost 74 officers and enlisted men killed or mortally wounded (One of whom was Silas' brother, Henry.) and 38 officers and enlisted men from disease (National Park Service, Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System, n.d., <<http://www.itd.nps.gov/cwss/>> (National Archive Roll No. M559_61).

His Obituary follows:

–ØBIT:

Last Friday morning, amid the joy of Christmas cheer, the spirit of Deacon Hiram VanBuren passed from this life. As our readers are probably aware, Deacon VanBuren has been suffering for some time past with valvular diseas of the heart which brouth on partial paralysis. He came up town on election day, in November last, and since then has been confined to his house nearly all the time. After the first attack, however, he seemed to recuperate somewhat but on Thursday last he suffered a relapse which terminated fatally as above stated. Deacon VanBuren was born in Charlotteville, New York, May 12, 1812. When about 19 years of age he married and his wife survives him. In 1856 they moved to Wisconsin and remained there until 1863 when they came to Waterloo where they have resided ever since. Five children were born to them but only one, H.S. VanBuren, who is a merchant at Brandon in Buchanan county, is now living. The funeral services were held last Sunday afternoon at the 1st Baptist church, and a large audience gathered to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of deceased. Deacon VanBuren united with the Baptist church when he was 20 years of age and two years later he was elected deacon, which position he held for fifty years, and his death makes the third deacon of the 1st Baptist church to die during the past year, the others being Deacons Hall and Whipple. Deceased was a conscientious Christian in every respect and a thoroughly honest man in all his dealings. He was well-known and every one respected him highly for his many good qualities of head and heart, his industrious habits and his high moral attributes. During his illness, when he knew that death was approaching, his heart was touched by the kindness shown him by his friends and neighbors and his prayers ascended for their future happiness and peace. In his death the city has lost a good citizen, his relatives a kind husband and father, and the community a man whose many virtues are worthy of emulation. CARD OF THANKS

The relatives of the late Deacon VanBuren desire to return their sincere thanks for the great kindness shown them by their neighbors and friends during their recent bereavement. Such lively sympathy touches the heart and its remembrance will ever be a pleasure. Gregory H. Stilwell provided the following excerpt from a letter written by William Sands Stilwell dated December 6, 1850.

"Our love to Sister Harriet & say we hope to be far better acquainted before not only with her but "That stout hearty good natured clever boy - the Magazine (??) and the mild Ella Virginia ((?))" & I know not how many more - how conceited we Fathers & Mothers are!!!! !I will introduce you to Master Edwin a stout hearty fellow three feet five inches - can take his own part when offended. Miss Ann Eliza five feet four inches and calls herself a young lady wants to go to dancing school but wears her mothers shoes. Miss Priscilla the lady of literature a perfect Blue stocking - and last comes Adeline the commander of the whole troop a perfect Joan of Arc - I expect if at some future day our country should unfortunately go to war she will be leading on some "forlorn hope" --- but she will live to tell the tale & proclaim victory. !Now as ever William" !In the margin ""Mrs Baldwin is confined to bed with a severe attack of Pleurisy --- Ed & Ad have been very sick for two weeks past but are now recovering." (Greg H. Stilwell, Greg H. Stilwell - Research By (Greg H. Stilwell, 126 Freedom Valley Circle, Coatesville, Pennsylvania 19320-1355).

—Dr. Benjamin Stilwell had attended a private school on Locust Hill Avenue and then Columbia University where he received both law and medical degrees. A pioneer in the lighting industry, he was Vice-president of the Westchester Lighting Company, Vice-president of the Yonkers Savings Bank and a Trustee of the Hollywood Inn. Mayor William J. Wallin appointed him to the Board of Education in 1919. He served several terms as Vice-president and two terms as President. In 1880 Benjamin Stilwell married Mary A. Peene, daughter of Captain Joseph A. Peene, founder in 1839 of the Ben Franklin Shipping Lines whose ships sailed between Yonkers and New York City. Mary was born in 1860 and attended local schools. Active in St. John's Episcopal Church for 25 years, she headed the St. John's and Mary Randal Memorial Home operated by the church at 5 Hudson Street. The Stilwells lived at 240 Palisade Avenue for many years. When Dr. Stilwell died on March 18, 1931, while playing golf at the Hudson River Country Club on North Broadway, school board President Leslie Sutherland ordered flags on the schools flown at half-staff. His funeral service was in St. John's Episcopal Church in Getty Square and burial was in Oakland Cemetery. Mary Stilwell died June 22, 1942 after a short illness. She lived at 293 North Broadway at the time of her death." (Tom Flynn, Yonkers History: Home Town WW II Hero: General "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell, n.d., <http://www.yonkershistory.org/8_3_1.html>)

Birth:

Marriage:

Reference (a) above p. 184.

Author's note: There is some confusion on the subject of the number of children born to her. The 1900 New York census record indicates that only four of 12 children born to her were alive. The 1910 New Jersey census record indicates that five of seventeen were alive. This would mean that five children had to be born to her between the age of 65 and 75 years. Though not impossible, it does appear to be not plausible.

Author's note: John Speer assigns George Lumbrier as a husband of Mary Stilwell. I have been unable to confirm this marriage. Doctor John E. Stillwell assign Isaac Worms as a husband of Mary Stilwell. This has been confirmed through the federal census records from 1870 through 1910. Based on these records, the couple married around 1860. If Mary did indeed marry George Lumbrier, the marriage had to occur before 1860. I could not find Mary and George living together as a couple in the 1860 nor the 1850 Federal Census records.

Los Angeles County, California.

Author's note: It appears John and his family migrated to Alberta, Canada sometime between 1900 and 1905. By 1909 the family had returned to the United States. The return date is based on the year of birth of their daughter Phyllis. What is unknown is their migration route from Alberta to California. The 1920 Federal Census record indicates that Phyllis was born in Idaho around 1909. The 1930 Federal Census record indicates that she was born around 1909 in California. I have been unable to locate any additional records which could aid in clarifying this issue.

Author's note: Martina had been married previously to a Jensen with whom she had three daughters. The daughters were Elsidy (The spelling is the best interpretation that I could make of the census enumerator's handwriting.), Myrtle and Pearl. All of the daughters were born in Utah (1884, 1885 and 1890 respectively) and were living with John and Martina in 1900.

Children of John Heber Sill (Twin) and Martina (---) were as follows:

- 10114 i Lynel Heber⁹ Sill [44334], born⁴¹⁸⁴ 5 August 1894 in Layton, Davis, Utah; died⁴¹⁸⁵ 9 March 1963 in San Mateo County, California.

⁴⁵⁰⁹Author's note: The 1900 Indiana Federal Census record lists Olive M. Mount (born July, 1877) as being a daughter of Thomas and Mary. Olive wasn't recorded in the 1880 Indiana Federal Census record and her date of birth does not fit with the year of the parent's marriage. I am not confident that Olive is actually a daughter of Thomas and Mary based on the available evidence.

5607. Thomas H.⁸ Follick [19806] (Nancy Melvina⁷ Applegate, Thomas Jefferson⁶, Sarah Susan⁵ Britton, John⁴, Nathaniel³, Ann² Stillwell, Nicholas¹), born^{4567, 4568, 4569, 4570, 4571, 4572, 4573} February 1852 in Vienna Township, Scott, Indiana. He married⁴⁵⁷⁴ on 26 October 1873 in Finley Township, Scott, Indiana Amanda A. Johnson [35620], born^{4575, 4576} March 1854 in Indiana; died 1900/1910 in Finley, Scott, Indiana; buried 1900/1910 in Finley, Scott, Indiana.

Author's note: Thomas appears to be enumerated with the family of Emma and Oliver Miskell in the 1930 Indiana Federal Census. A notation to his name states that he was the father but living with James Follick on page 2A. The notation definitely did not refer to Oliver. If the notation was referring to Emma, it does not make any sense since. This Emma would have been thirteen years of age in 1900 and she was not enumerated with Thomas and Amanda Follick in that census record. One logic scenario is that that Oliver Miskell was renting Thomas' farm and Thomas may have been visiting the residence at the time of the time the enumerator arrived at the farm. This is a speculation on my part.

Children of Thomas H. Follick and Amanda A. Johnson were as follows:

5616. Oliver Lincoln⁸ Applegate⁴⁶⁵⁹ [21203] (William Henry Harrison⁷, Thomas Jefferson⁶, Sarah Susan⁵ Britton, John⁴, Nathaniel³, Ann² Stillwell, Nicholas¹), born^{4660, 4661, 4662, 4663, 4664, 4665, 4666} 6 April 1866 in Finley, Scott, Indiana; died⁴⁶⁶⁷ 21 January 1940 in Portland, Multnomah, Oregon. He married on 12 April 1904 in Portland, Multnomah, Oregon Bertha Ellwood Savin^{4668, 4669} [21151], born^{4670, 4671, 4672} 19 May 1875 in Delaware; died^{4673, 4674} 8 January 1962 in Portland, Multnomah, Oregon.

Author's note: The 1910 Oregon Federal Census indicated that the couple was married for 22 years. This does not appear to be logical based on the fact that Bertha would have been 13 years of age in 1888. I am assuming that either the entry is wrong or that I misinterpreted the enumerator's handwriting.

Children of Oliver Lincoln Applegate and Bertha Ellwood Savin were as follows:

- 10252 i Lucille (Elsie) M.⁹ Applegate [35623], born^{4675, 4676} 1907 in Portland, Multnomah, Oregon.

Author's note: There is no agreement as to what state Robert was born in between the two available censuses where he has been enumerated. I used the earlier record (1910) which recorded his state of birth as being Missouri. The 1920 record has his state of birth as being Texas.

The Welch spelling of the surname rather than the Welsh version is used. The choice was based solely on the signature of their son, Robert Welch, on his World War I draft registration card.

Barton, Kansas Elizabeth (Libby) Pearl Cass^{4783, 4784} [21146], born⁴⁷⁸⁵ 1886 in Kansas.

Author's note: Jerry M. Applegate recorded Rowena's maiden name as "Nixon". Floyd and Ned were living with their maternal grandparents in 1920. Their surname was "Dukes". Floyd was enumerated with them in 1930 and again the surname was recorded as "Dukes".

Based on the information published in Robert E. Applegate's obituary, Elizabeth had been married previously to an Atteberry with whom she had two sons, Lawrence and Merle. Though the two sons were enumerated under the Applegate surname in 1930, it does not appear that they were adopted nor took the Applegate name.

10270 ii Ned E. Applegate [44687], born^{4790, 4791} March 1917 in Barton County, Kansas; died before 2005.

Children of George Washington Applegate and Elizabeth (Libby) Pearl Cass were as follows:

+ 10271 i Robert E. (Bob) Applegate [44688], born 29 April 1927 in Heizer, Barton, Kansas; died 26 November 2005 in Great Bend, Barton, Kansas; buried 29 November 2005 in Great Bend, Barton, Kansas. He married Dora Jean Smith [44691].

5623. Mathias Scott Applegate^{4792, 4793} [21181] (William Henry Harrison⁷, Thomas Jefferson⁶, Sarah Susan⁵ Britton, John⁴, Nathaniel³, Ann² Stillwell, Nicholas¹), born^{4794, 4795, 4796, 4797, 4798} 10 February 1883 in Pleasant Grove Township, Greenwood, Kansas; died⁴⁷⁹⁹ 26 January 1934 in Portland, Multnomah, Oregon. He married⁴⁸⁰⁰ on 8 June 1908 in Spokane, Spokane, Washington Gertrude Albright^{4801, 4802} [21143], born^{4803, 4804, 4805} 1885 in Kansas, daughter of Fred Albright [21144] and Catherine Schmidt [21145].

Author's note: Jerry M. Applegate assigned three marriages to Mathias. The first was Clara Arvila Brush. The second to a Gertrude who was born in 1896 in Kansas. The third was to Agatha Wilhelmina Albrecht. The only marriage that I could definitively assign to Mathias was to Gertrude Albright. The 1910 Washington Federal Census record indicates that their marriage was the first for each of them. This tends to rule out a marriage for Mathias prior to 1910 but it does not necessarily preclude such an event. In the 1930 Washington Federal Census, Gertrude is listed as being a widow. The couple could have separated or been divorced between 1920 and 1930. This time period would have allowed for additional marriages on the part of Mathias. Lacking additional documentation, I have only listed the marriage between Mathias and Gertrude.

Children of Mathias Scott Applegate and Gertrude Albright were as follows:

10272 i Esther S. Applegate⁴⁸⁰⁶ [21142], born^{4807, 4808, 4809} 1909 in Ione, Stevens, Washington.

Author's note: It appears that James had married a second time based on available records. I have not been able to identify his second wife nor the place and the date of their marriage.

Misc:

James Smith Eldredge served as a private with F Company of the 25th New Jersey Volunteer Infantry Regiment. The regiment left for Washington, D. C. on October 12, 1862 and was attached to the 2nd Brigade, Casey's Division, Defenses of Washington until December of 1862 when the regiment transferred to 1st Brigade, 3rd Division, 9th Army Corps, Army of the Potomac. In During February, 1863 the regiment was transferred to the 3rd Brigade, 3rd Division, 9th Army Corps, Army of the Potomac. The regiment remained with this 3rd Brigade until April, 1863 when it was assigned to the 3rd Brigade, 2nd Division, 7th Army Corps, Department of Virginia. Until it was mustered out of the service on June 23, 1863.

The regiment served primarily in garrison duty and the defense of Washington with the exception of participating in the Siege of Suffolk and being engaged in the Battle of Fredericksburg. The regiment lost 20 officers and enlisted men killed or mortally wounded and another 37 enlisted men from disease. (National Park Service, Civil War Soldiers & Sailors System, n.d, <<http://www.itd.nps.gov/cwss/soldiers.htm>> (National Archive Roll No. M550_7))

Children of James Smith Eldredge (Private/USA) and Latitia Stimpson were as follows:

10364 i Charles Stimpson⁹ Eldredge⁵¹⁰⁹ [45454], born 1863/1864 in Lower Township, Cape May, New Jersey.

Author's note: James' patient records (National Homes for Disabled Soldiers) had listed his son, Charles Eldridge of Brooklyn, New York, as his nearest relative. There is a Charles Eldredge recorded in the 1920 New York Federal Census record in Brooklyn, New York whose parents were born in New Jersey. His recorded age would place him as being born in 1865, the same year as Augustus. I do not know if this Charles is the one and the same listed in the Mayflower Descendants in Cape May County, New Jersey and on James' patient records.

10365 ii Augustus or Gustavus⁹ Eldredge⁵¹¹⁰ [45455], born⁵¹¹¹ 1865 in Lower Township, Cape May, New Jersey.

Enlistment Date: 17 Jul 1861

Frank W. Ridgeway served as the an Assistant Surgeon with the 73rd New York Volunteer Infantry Regiment through June 30, 1863 at which time he was promoted to Full Surgeon. The regiment was organized at Camp Scott of Staten Island and was mustered into the army at the beginning of October, 1861. The regiment left from Washington, D.C. on October 8, 1861 and was immediately assigned to Sickles' Brigade, Hooker's Division, Army of the Potomac. During March, 1862 the regiment was transferred to the 2nd Brigade, 2nd Division, 3rd Army Corps, Army of the Potomac and remained with that upper echelon unit until March, 1864 when it was transferred to the 2nd Brigade, 4th Division, 2nd Army Corps. During May, 1864 the regiment was transferred to the 4th Brigade, 3rd Division, 2nd Army Corps. The regiment was again transferred on in July, 1864 to the 1st Brigade, 3rd Division, 2nd Army Corps and remained with that organization until the regiment was mustered out of the service on June 29, 1865.

The regiment participated early on in the Defenses of Washington, D. C., the Peninsula Campaign, Siege of Yorktown and Petersburg. It was engaged at the Battles of Williamsburg, Oak Grove, Peach Orchard, Savage Station, Malvern Hill, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House, Topotomoy, and Sailors Creek. It was present at Appomattox Court House for the surrender of the Confederate forces under Lee. The regiment lost 156 officers and enlisted men killed or mortally wounded and another 77 from disease.

County, New York Jane Garlock [27060], born^{5748, 5749} 1837 in New York, daughter of Isaac Garlock [27061].

Author's note: Charles consistently used the –Stilwell” version of the surname.

Charles T. Stilwell served as a private with B Company of the 184th New York Volunteer Infantry Regiment which was mustered into the army on September 12, 1864. B Company along with A, D and F Companies left the state the same day for the Shenandoah Valley and were attached to the 1st Brigade, 3rd Division, 6th Army Corps until December, 1864. The companies were engaged at the Battle of Cedar Creek. The companies were subsequently assigned to the defense of Washington, D. C. and rejoined the regiment during December, 1864. From December, 1864 through June, 1865 the regiment participated in the operations against Petersburg and Richmond and other defensive operations. The regiment was mustered out of the service on June 29, 1865 at City Point, Virginia. The regiment lost 11 officers and enlisted men killed or mortally wounded and an additional 27 enlisted men from disease. Author's note: Robert may have been married previous to his marriage with Amelia. The 1900 and 1910 New Jersey Federal Census records show that the couple married in 1870, five years after Anna was born. However, the same records indicate that Amelia only had one child who was alive at the time of the enumeration of both of this census. Either Anna is Robert's daughter by a previous marriage or the year of marriage with Amelia is wrong.

6091. Lee Stokes [20693] (Susanna Throckmorton, James Job, James Mary Stillwell, Jeremiah Nicholas), born 11 July 1868 in Clear Creek, Warren, Ohio; died 4 April 1952 in Lebanon, Warren, Ohio; buried 7 April 1952 in Lebanon, Warren, Ohio. He married (1) in 1890 in Warren County, Ohio (---) (---) [45046]; (2) in 1896 in Warren County, Ohio Floy P. Earnhart [45033], born 17 December 1868 in Warren County, Ohio; died 9 October 1950 in Lebanon, Warren, Ohio; buried 11 October 1950 in Lebanon, Warren, Ohio, daughter of Marshall C. Earnhart [45034] and Lizzie Crane [45035].

Author's note: The only documentation that I have encountered regarding Lee's first marriage are the entries made in the 1910 and 1930 Ohio Federal Census record for Lee. Based on that information he had married first around 1890. I have been unable to identify his first wife.
